

No Crying In California

Lyrics by J A Knight

Freight train rides through santa ana winds
On board tainted saints of sin
Hyper cranial driver hypnocratic engineer
Bound for armageddon miles from here
Motorman said look inside my mind
A million ideas you will find
Psychedelic dreams make me wanna cry
Got to get to heaven before i die
Conductor said just to warn ya
There 'aint no crying in California

No crying in Californ-i-a
This is a requiem for angels
The devil tuned my electric guitar
I'll die in la like a rock & roll star
No crying in California
La la la la la la la

16 tons of hurt & pain
On a neon sidewalk under pouring rain
A spectral dump truck takes it all down
To a radioactive cemetery outskirts town
Drive all night drive all day
You never drive these blues away
Theres no relief on this highway of grief
Through crystal visions spoke tribal chief
Prismatic tears fell out of clear sky
You better think twice before you cry

No crying in Californ-i-a
Phantoms hallucinate angels
From moonlight motel zodiac sign
Hear mission bells at dead end county line
No crying in California
La la la la la la la

Evil wheels spin in a diabolical mind
Fuelled by hatred for all mankind
Nuclear isotope ready to blow
Destroy hollywood on the late late show
Highway disciples on shiny machines
Transgressive evolution electric gasoline
Assassins of tomorrow waiting for night
Zigzag secret runways at daylights flight
Tear heavens curtains stars are all gone
Eternity imminent time marches on
Universal darkness aint it a pity
There 'aint no crying in this city

No crying in Californ-i-a
Pray for telekinetic angels
Transmutation stations carry every sound
On forbidden wavelengths underground
No crying in Californ-i-a
Sorrow must find another way
To travel from sodom to gomorrah
There 'aint no crying in California

(Spoken)

Angels, devils go hand in hand
They spread diseased salvation across the land
Terrified citizens flee from burning skies
Dive into boiling oceans there for to die
Watchers gaze out upon this watery pyre
From a distant horizon with molten eyes of fire